I need One to many relationship without second table. I dont know how to do it. Here are classes and one to many: @OneToMany(cascade=CascadeType.ALL, fetch=FetchType.LAZY) @JoinColumn(name="USER_ID") private List role; @ManyToOne(cascade = CascadeType.ALL) @JoinColumn(name="role_id") private UserRole role; A: It's possible to setup bidirectional relation between User and UserRole, but Hibernate is not going to manage that for you. You need to do that explicitly. User user = new User(...); UserRole userRole = new UserRole(...); user.addToRole(userRole); userRole.addToUser(user); If you have mappings like that, you have one-to-many association between User and UserRole. Hulk Hogan Claims Sexual Harassment Against Mr. Anderson By Life Coach At World Wrestling Entertainment Hulk Hogan Claims Sexual Harassment Against Mr. Anderson By Life Coach At World Wrestling Entertainment Hulk Hogan Claims Sexual Harassment Against Mr. Anderson By Life Coach At World Wrestling Entertainment Former World Wrestling Entertainment (WWE) wrestler Scott "Piper" Anderson filed a complaint with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) today, claiming that the life coach who worked with him at the company "subjected him to sexual harassment, intimidation and retaliation for reporting the behavior," according to a release from the EEOC. The EEOC's New York District Office is conducting the investigation into Anderson's complaint. Anderson filed the complaint on September 26, but it wasn't made public until this week, after the New York District Office of the EEOC informed WWE of the complaint and requested information. WWE

Q: How to check which website a user has visited in the last 24 hours? How can I find out which site a user has visited recently, without requiring him/her to login to Facebook. I am building a game that uses in-game ads, and the current user's demographics are saved on Facebook, in order to increase the game's ad relevancy. Currently, I'm having the user sign up through Facebook, but I would prefer not to require a Facebook account.

A: Using Facebook SDK, you can get the log of the user: Facebook iOS SDK

P.S: Your app is going to be rejected if you're asking for Facebook login from users who haven't already registered on Facebook.

P.P.S: If you're sure that your app doesn't need this functionality, just go for anonymous user.

The MLB playoffs are getting underway, and with that comes a brand new slogan for one of baseball's most successful franchises. The Washington Nationals unveiled a new "We The North" slogan on Friday, highlighting the region the team calls home. The slogan will be used on banners and murals hanging around Nationals Park throughout the postseason. The new slogan was revealed in conjunction with the release of the home run record recently set by Nationals outfielder Bryce Harper, who has long been nicknamed "We The North." The slogan was revealed the same day as Harper was announced as a finalist for the National League Most Valuable Player Award. The new slogan makes sense for a team that has seen much of the success in Washington during the past decade. Although they haven't yet won a World Series since 1933, they have made back-to-back playoff appearances since 2008, and have never missed a playoff game in their current home stadium. The team has also been a perennial contender, consistently posting some of the highest attendance and revenue numbers in the majors. And it's not like they've been sitting on the sidelines recently. After the Nats became the first team to clinch a playoff spot, the team is on pace to shatter the single-season MLB attendance record. The team is set to draw over 3.7 million fans, topping the 3.6 million mark set by the New York Yankees in
